Will I be in the same group?

For those that were previously enrolled, you will remain in your current group unless otherwise specified by Jacki. If you are new to the REW Music Home School groups you will need to contact Jacki to set up an audition to determine which group is best suited for you.

We did not participate in the fall semester. Can we join now?

If you are interested in joining us for the first time this semester you need to already have experience playing your instrument or contact Jacki to make special arrangements. Note: to be eligible to play percussion students need 2 years of piano.

What materials will I need?

Each student will be responsible for providing their own Instrument, Method Book, Folding Music Stand, and any other necessary Accessories. REW Music will provide any additional sheet music needed for class. (Rental instruments are available; see a store team member for details.)

- Quality is paramount at REW and our classes are no exception. In addition they should practice at home every day in order to be prepared for class.
- The instructor must be notified by phone if you are not able to make it to class.
- Students with inconsistent attendance will not be allowed to participate in concerts or performances.
- Students must arrive at least 10 minutes prior to class time, and be in their seats with tuned instruments at class time.

- The director reserves the right to deny students participation in a rehearsal or performance due to inappropriate behavior.
- Foul language or unwholesome talk, roughhousing, disruptive behavior, physical display of affection (PDA), disrespect for authority and/or REW Music property, and all other inappropriate behavior as deemed by the director are all grounds for disciplinary action.
- REW Music reserves the right to remove a student from the program for disciplinary reasons. No refunds will be given.

DISCONTINUING ENROLLMENT

- If a student wishes to withdraw from class, written notification must be submitted to the director.
- Class tuition is non refundable.

REW Homeschool Approved Instrument Policy

REW Music is proud to offer an exceptional homeschool band and orchestra group experience. Over the 11 years we have been offering the program, we have found that we have more and more instruments that are presenting challenges to the students' musical experience. Some of the instruments, despite the student's best efforts, are not of the quality to allow the musician to excel. We spend a lot of time trying to make sub-quality instruments play in tune, or work at all.

We have found misinformation in the marketing of school instruments, and inconsistencies in their production. Instead of creating a list of acceptable brands, we will provide a free evaluation of all instruments for quality and repair status. All instruments will need to be evaluated by the REW Music Repair Shop prior to the enrollment deadline.

We are not trying to sell additional instruments or repair services. We want to make sure that the instruments in the program allow all of the musicians to be the best they can be and not be hindered by the issues that can be caused by sub-quality instruments, such as excessive repair time and difficult intonation. We have had instruments in the program that have hampered the progress of not only the individual student, but the entire group. We want to ensure that all of our students are provided a quality program.

If you are considering a new (or new to you) instrument purchase, please consult with REW Music before you buy. We will be happy to evaluate any instrument and let you know if it will meet our standards for the homeschool program.

Concert Sheet Music Return Policy

All concert sheet music must be returned in good condition, free of pencil markings, tears, and excessive wrinkles. You will have 1 week following the end of semester concert to return the sheet music, or you will incur a $2.00(+ tax) per page, non-refundable late fee.

If you do not return your music at all, or if it is damaged beyond repair (at the discretion of REW Music), you will be invoiced a replacement fee at the current market price.
